A CHAPTER OF MURDERS.

KENTUCKY AND WISCONSIN A TIE FOR FIRST PLACE.

Moonshiner Killed By Officers—Burglar Shoots a Deputy Sheriff—Two Deaths From a Quarrel—Unknown Robbers Murder Four People—Other Murders.

CATLETSBURG, Ky., May 28.—Intelligence reached this place Friday morning that the remnants of the Hatfield-McCoy gang had collided, and that three men were killed. Upon investigation it was found that the reported massacre was unfounded and that the killings were not one of those fashionable Kentucky feuds.

The first on the list was the killing of Preston Fleming by Robert Davis, a couple of miles above Pikeville. In Pikeville and Pike county local option prevails, and there are three illicit distilleries over in Knott county, until recently a part of Pike.

Those engaged in the manufacture of whisky go over the line into Pike and sell their wares. Eight of these men were detected carrying on their business, and the Pikeville authorities, headed by Marshal Davis and Jailer Cline, went out to capture the gang. They discovered seven in their rendezvous, an old warehouse, and Mr. Cline gained his way into the building and held them at bay. Preston Fleming, who happened to come up, took in the situation at a glance, and attempted to shoot Cline, when Davis, one of the guards, who saw him with his gun cocked and pointed at Cline, shot and killed him. He fell near the door. The other seven were locked up in the Pike county jail. Davis, fearing trouble, left at once for parts unknown.

The second happened at Proter, in Floyd county, in which Jake Holderfield, an ex-deputy United States marshal and deputy sheriff of Floyd county, was killed. John Hall stood indicted for burglary in the Floyd criminal court, and Holderfield went out to arrest him. As he entered Hall's house, the latter shot him through the head, killing him instantly. Immediately after the murder, Hall fled. The excitement is high, and if he is captured, he will be lynched.

The other two murders occurred over on the Tug Fork of Sandy, in Pike county, Thomas Cline and Henry Simpkins had quarreled over a trivial matter, when Cline whipped out his revolver and shot Simpkins, killing him instantly.

Cline at once left the scene, but a few miles later his body was found only a few miles away with a bullet through it, and the supposition is that Cline's friends, in endeavoring to capture him, had to kill him.

A Quadruple Murder.
VIROQUA, Wis., May 28.—Information has been received here of the murder of four persons in the town of Kickapoo. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Drake, an old couple, were shot dead in their own house by unknown parties and the throats of their two little grandchildren were cut from ear to ear. The lifeless bodies were found in the morning, when neighbors made an investigation because of the unusual quietness about the house. The old couple lay on the floor and the children were stretched in the their beds. Everything was turned upside down inside the house, and it is supposed that the murder was the result of an attempt at robbery. The old man had been known to receive pension money, and it is supposed the robbers were in quest of this. As Mr. and Mrs. Drake were fully dressed it is supposed the murder occurred early in the evening. The neighborhood is greatly excited, but there is no clew to the operators.

Shot His Wife and Her Paramour.
BRUNSWICK, Mo., May 28.—Friday morning William Miller, a respectable citizen, saw his wife and John Morgan sitting together in the depot. Miller had had reason to suspect his wife of intimacy with Morgan and drawing his revolver he began firing. The first shot struck his wife in the arm and the second pierced her breast. She fell to the floor mortally wounded. Miller next turned the weapon on Morgan and with one shot brought him to the floor dead, with one bullet through his head. Miller at first fled and attempted to escape, but later returned and surrendered.

Shot His Wife and Suicided.
WOODWARD, I. T., May 28.—A suicide and attempt at wife murder occurred Thursday at Whitehead hill. A ranchman named Flynn became despondent through jealousy and threatened to kill himself in his wife's presence, whereupon she tried to escape from him and received two shots from a pistol in her back. Flynn then shot himself and died shortly afterwards. His wife, it is thought, he will recover.

One Woman Slays Another.
KANSAS CITY, May 28.—Mary Cita, wife of an Italian peddler, was stabbed to the heart with a butcher knife Friday night by Josephine Corido and instantly killed. The murdered woman was a cripple and had trouble with the Corido family, who live in an adjoining house. During an altercation Mrs. Cita slapped George Corido in the face, and his wife plunged the knife into her breast.

Pleaded Guilty to Murder.
MR. HOLLY, N. J., May 28.—During the progress of the Peak murder trial, all were surprised when Peak pleaded guilty to the indictment. Judge Garrison instructed the jury that they could sign a verdict of murder in the second degree and the court would be responsible.

Murdered for a Pair of Socks.
CAPERTON, W. Va., May 28.—Friday, Lee Poindexter, a negro miner, shot Mike Silverstone, a Jew peddler. The bullet took effect in Silverstone's left temple, killing him instantly. The murderer escaped. The trouble grew out of a dispute over the purchase of a pair of cheap socks.

Won't Visit Brooklyn Decoration Day.
NEW YORK, May 28.—It seems that the announcement that Mrs. Cleveland would be in Brooklyn Decoration Day, and hold a ladies' reception at Rev. Dr. Talmage's house, is erroneous. She did think of accompanying the president to Brooklyn, but at no time had she any idea of holding a public reception. She has now decided not to visit Brooklyn at present.

POLITICAL.

Blaine's Candidacy—Ohio Prohibitionists. Other Political News.

BOSTON, May 28.—Joseph H. Manley, Mr. Blaine's orderly, and chairman of the Maine State Republican committee, arrived at Young's hotel Friday night from Augusta, and left Saturday for Washington to hold a consultation with the leading Republican congressmen regarding Mr. Blaine's candidacy.

"I am not going to forward Mr. Blaine's interests," said Mr. Manley to a correspondent. "In fact I think they do not need promoting. The country is all alive for Blaine, and I think the movement has got beyond his control. I know Mr. Blaine has no hand in the enthusiasm for him, but it is here, and we must look at it as a fact. When the Blaine forces are marshaled at Chicago and mean to nominate him I propose to make things as pleasant as possible. After I have talked over matters a little I can tell more than now, but I will say from present indications there is a strong pressure in favor of his nomination."

Mr. Manley says there is no truth in the published statement that Mr. Blaine will positively decline renomination at an early day, while his friends are laboring to keep him silent. Mr. Blaine is passive as regards his candidacy, and will continue so up to the hour of the convention. He has never on any occasion given his friends to understand that he would not accept if nominated, and from what is positively known it may be depended upon that he will not decline if the honor is thrust upon him. The Maine statesman looked smiling, and was evidently very happy over the prospects of Mr. Blaine's nomination, though he did not say so.

Ohio Prohibitionists.

TOLEDO, O., May 28.—The Prohibition state convention Friday, after two hours debate, adopted a platform which included a plank favoring woman suffrage.

Delegates-at-large are A. B. Leonard, B. S. Higley, R. S. Thompson, W. T. Mills. Alternates: Richard Brown, A. R. Ludlow, A. R. Wilkins, Mrs. Fannie Leiter.

The following nominations were then made:

For secretary of state, Walter S. Payne, of Postoria, was nominated by acclamation.

John T. Moore, of Jackson, was nominated by acclamation for supreme judge.

Amor Miller, of Bellefontaine, and J. W. Rosenborough, of Palmyra, were elected electors-at-large by acclamation.

No Truth in the Story.

PARIS, May 28.—Mr. Blaine, in an interview, Friday, said that there was not the slightest truth in the story that he had written a letter to Roscoe Conkling during the campaign of 1884, that it had been withheld by the Republican National committee, and that had Mr. Conkling received it, he would have answered it in an open letter cordially supporting the Republican ticket. Mr. Blaine said there had been no personal intercourse between himself and Mr. Conkling, either by speech or letter, for twenty-two years. Mr. Blaine stated that he had given his high estimate of Mr. Conkling's ability as an orator and a statesman in "Twenty Years of Congress."

A FOOLHARDY UNDERTAKING.

Two Cranks Leave Colorado Springs for the Sea in a Small Craft.

DENVER, Col., May 28.—J. C. and Matthew D. Karr have started on their journey from Colorado Springs for the Gulf of California in a torpedo boat. Their object is to follow the Grand river and then through the Colorado river on to the Pacific coast. A large crowd collected to see them off, whistles blew, men and boys shouted, and women waved their handkerchiefs. They were the heroes of the hour, but many think they will give up their foolish and perilous trip before going far, for it will be almost certain death to them in the narrow, dangerous canons, and especially the Grand canon of the Colorado river. The craft is twenty feet long and three and a half feet in diameter, and round like a barrel.

It was built by the brothers themselves, the material costing $30. There is no rudder, but holes are cut in the sides of the boat for use when in an eddy. The two manholes are so arranged that the inmates can see what is going on.

This strange little craft, built for going through dangerous canons, is sharpened at both ends so that when striking a boulder it will dart to one side and safely pursue its course. If they succeed in making the entire journey, which is considered doubtful, they will traverse about three thousand miles of dangerous water courses. It will be a trip from the crest of the Rocky mountains to the Pacific coast.

The brothers say they are from a town named Buffalo, Ind. John is twenty-two and Matt is twenty-eight years of age. The former has been in Colorado for two years and the latter since January. They say they have made a stake in the Aspen mines, and now intend to enjoy themselves on a hunting and fishing expedition.

"We propose to go through the Grand canon of the Colorado," said John Karr, "for we have been told that it could be done."

Matt said: "We will go through the Grand canon of the Colorado without much trouble."

It is a strange, wild venture, and if they attempt to follow the course outlined they will no doubt be wrecked in the angry, dashing waters on some deep and narrow canyon. It is a more dangerous venture than jumping from the Brooklyn bridge or going over Niagara in a barrel.

New Orleans' Dirty Streets.

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—Gen. Beauregard has determined to withhold for the present his resignation of the commissioner-ship of public works. The city council not having made a sufficient appropriation for cleaning the city for the summer, he has called upon public spirited citizens to raise $40,000 by subscription for that purpose, and has himself subscribed $100. This appeal has met with a hearty response, and already several thousand dollars have been pledged, while others have given the use of their teams for the work. A movement is on foot to make April 17 every year a general cleaning day, when everybody shall turn in and put the city in a perfect condition, and even the ladies prepare cake and beer for those who do the cleaning.

NIAGARA WATER POWER.

$100,000 OFFERED FOR THE BEST WAY TO UTILIZE IT.

Several Companies Organized to Secure the Reward—Suggestions, Plans and Models Forwarded in By Hundreds—Cranks Already Getting in Their Work.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A $100,000 prize harness is what Mr. James Bluett Stafford, of Buffalo, is looking for, and his Pegasus is to be the swiftest flowing navigable river in the world, the Niagara. To a reporter, who saw him at the St. Denis hotel, the president of the Buffalo Business Men's association said that a mistaken idea of the big prize scheme prevailed.

Many thought that Niagara Falls was the great water power that must be subdued and made to do the grinding and turning of a thousand millstones and fly wheels.

"Of course, the great cataract's tremendous power can be utilized," said Mr. Stafford, "but the cost of buying the right of way to Buffalo, the waste of power through friction and the expensive machinery would bring the amount of capital required for such an undertaking up to at least $10,000,000."

"The power of Niagara river is running to waste right at the very doors of Buffalo, and we want it put to use. Last July, while showing the scenery along the lake and river front to a friend, I first thought of this prize scheme. I was not enough of a practical man then to know whether it was possible or not to get at the power, but to-day I can bring 1,000 witnesses to prove that the Niagara's current can be turned into the channels of trade. And not only that, but each witness will swear that he and his plan alone are the means by which this can be accomplished."

"We offer $100,000 as a prize to the inventors of the world for the discovery and sole right to use the best appliance for utilizing the water power of Niagara river at or near Buffalo, so that such power may be made practically available for manufacturing purposes throughout the city. The money has been subscribed by the representative business men of Buffalo. We could not refuse to admit outsiders, and in the list are the names of Erasmus Wiman, 'Fritz' Emmet, the actor, and Samuel L. Storer, of Storer & Company, of this city."

"Up to the present time we have no perfected organization, but I shall call a meeting of the subscribers very soon. Ever since our offer of this prize was made public through the newspapers, we have been overwhelmed with letters and visitors. Questions, suggestions, plans, models and would-be 'harnessmakers,' as we call them, have flooded my office, and besides this at least forty practical men have located in Buffalo for a week or a month to study the river, and work out a plan that will win the $100,000."

"Of course 'crank' letters have been numerous, and I am satisfied that some of the writers are in insane asylums. Others ought to be. One minister in Texas, who used to write me every day, has developed symptoms of violence in his epistles lately, and I believe the thing has unbalanced his mind."

"Have you seen anything that looks practicable?" asked the reporter.

"Hundreds of plans look practicable to me," said Mr. Stafford, "but I am not a mechanic. After our first meeting, we shall probably appoint a committee of experts, who will draft specifications showing what work must be accomplished, and a copy will be sent to every inventor, including the would-be's whose names we have received. It is proposed to erect a large building containing a reservoir, and to establish a miniature Niagara. Here inventors can bring their models, and a perfect test can be made, provided we can get an accurate scale of the seven mile current."

"Companies to the number of half a dozen have been organized in Buffalo to manufacture various devices already believed by those interested to be successful ones. There is a company in St. Louis with a capital of $10,000,000, another in California, and a third in Milwaukee, and the latter with $5,000,000 capital, ready to build their harness as soon as it is produced satisfactory."

"When all these plans are shown in our test building I think we will have the most interesting exhibition of water motors ever seen. Certainly our offer has been a wonderful stimulus to inventors, and I am satisfied that the prize will be captured" very shortly.

The Judge Wouldn't Comply.

URBANA, O., May 28.—Tracy Pinney and Mary Pinney, his wife, and Jack Riley, indicted by the grand jury for robbing Dr. John Bryan's residence, pleaded guilty to the indictments Friday and were sentenced to the penitentiary, the former for five years, and the two latter for one year each respectively. As soon as sentence on Mrs. Pinney was pronounced she exclaimed: "Give me five years as you gave my husband; I don't want to be free when he is not," but the judge did not comply with her wish.

All a Mistake.

BALTIMORE, May 28.—There is no truth in the report that a meeting of Catholic prelates is to be held in Baltimore this week, or at any future time, to consider the labor question, and looking to the establishment of workmen's guilds. No such conference is or has been contemplated.

DUN & COMPANY.

Points Embraced in Their Regular Weekly Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, May 28.—R. G. Dun & Company, in their review of trade, says:

Gold has begun to go abroad in large amounts, $5,850,000 having been shipped since May 8. In the present state of foreign trade, suspension of foreign investments in this country involves exports of gold to meet current balances, whether any part of the foreign capital previously invested here is called back or not, but there are indications of foreign realizing in some securities.

The outgo of gold, in view of the large accumulation of idle money, causes no apprehension. At interior points money is scarcely anywhere close, and at nearly all points easier, but complaints of slow collections do not diminish. The volume of trade is almost universally unsatisfactory, but the unfavorable weather is in most cases accepted as the chief cause, and some improvement is reported at Cleveland and Memphis.

The tendency of prices has been downward, both for securities and for products. The average for products was temporarily lifted by the speculation in grain, but has fallen again to a point 5 per cent. below the highest for the year. Wheat has declined three cents, with more favorable crop prospects; corn has declined two and one-half cents for the week, and oats one cent. Hogs and lard have advanced fifteen cents per one hundred pounds, and coffee one-half cent, but cotton and sugar do not gain, and oil is three and one-half cents lower than a week ago. The decline in wool since May 1 has averaged thirty cents per one hundred pounds.

Hides continue very dull, and leather generally favors buyers. No special activity is seen in the boot and shoe trade, orders falling below expectations. Iron is very irregular. Definite, though not great, improvement appears in the dry goods and grocery trades. The stock market has been depressed about $1 per share by gold exports, and by liquidations in some prominent stocks; but a vigorous rally began Friday morning.

The business failures for the past seven days number: For the United States, 213; for Canada, 12; total, 225, compared with 189 last week, and 175 for the corresponding week of last year.

ED. CHAMBERLAIN CAPTURED.

He is Surprised While Asleep at His Uncle's House—A Lynching Feared.

MONTICELLO, Ind., May 28.—Ed. Chamberlain, who murderously assaulted the sheriff Thursday night and escaped from jail, was captured Friday night at Uncle William Biddle's house, six miles southwest of his father's home. He was asleep on a sofa, when his cousin, Mary Biddle, notified Jacob Fisher, a neighbor, who is a member of the Horse Thief and Detective association. Fisher summoned a posse, composed of Arthur and Ralph Laurie, Charles Echert and Elias Ward. Chamberlain was surprised, bound hand and foot and lodged in jail here at daylight.

He refused to talk. The jail is guarded by deputy sheriffs. No one is allowed near it. Sheriff Henderson's condition is worse. Chamberlain does not want to be removed, and is utterly indifferent. There is intense excitement. Big crowds of men are coming on trains and by road. Lynch law generally discussed, and the general opinion is that he will be hung by a mob. Chamberlain's mother is not expected to live.

His father says: "I am through with him. They can fire a thousand bullets into him for all I care."

Catherson, the remaining tramp, has not yet been captured. The commissioners offered a reward of $500 for Chamberlain, and $200 for Catherson.

Confederate Monument Cornerstone.
JACKSON, Miss., May 28.—At an early hour, Friday morning, visitors from all parts of the surrounding country began to fill the town, and the excursion trains brought hundreds of people to Jackson to witness the laying of the cornerstone of the Confederate monument which is being erected on the capital grounds. The procession was headed by Governor Lowrey and State Auditor Stone, who accompanied Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, the latter not being able to be present on account of ill-health. Col. Hooker, congressman from this district, made the address, and the grand lodge of Masons deposited memorials and laid the cornerstone.

Riot Among Negroes.

JACKSON, Miss., May 28.—A well founded rumor exists here among the negroes at Tongaloo college, eight miles north of this place, on the Illinois Central railway. It was commencement day at the college yesterday, and a large crowd of negroes assembled there. It is said that they were drinking a good deal. When the 4 p. m. down train passed some shooting had taken place, but no one had been hurt. Later a telegram was received by the city marshal urging him to bring up his whole police force, as a riot was in progress. Nothing definite can be learned. No answer can be got from the telegraph office. It is rumored that several negroes have been killed.

Object to Ministers Using the Weed.
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, May 28.—The general assembly of the United Presbyterian church Friday decided that it had no right to instruct presbyteries to refuse to license candidates for the ministry who use tobacco, but adopted a strong recommendation against it. Seventy-two thousand dollars was appropriated to home missions.

Razored Himself to Death.

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 28.—Mrs. E. Davis learned Wednesday that her husband, to whom she had been married twenty years, had married a second wife. The shock unbalanced her mind and yesterday she cut her throat with a razor and cannot survive.

New York Banker Passes in His Checks.
NEW YORK, May 28.—Brev. Col. Charles T. Wing died to-day. He was a graduate of Kenyon college, and one of the founders of the Ohio society in New York. He served with distinction in the army, and has of late been engaged in banking in this city.

Shot in the Shoulder.

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., May 28.—Report has reached here of the shooting of a Miss Maple by Mrs. Frank Johnson in the neighboring county of Rush. The girl was shot through the shoulder. Jealousy was the cause.

Speaker Carlisle's Clincher.

None of the many tariff speeches delivered recently in Congress will have more weight and influence than that of Carlisle, the distinguished Speaker of the House. Why? Simply because no one is better posted than he on this vexed question. None treated it more fairly. He threw aside personal prejudices, and appealed to reason and sound common sense, backing up his unanswerable argument with facts and figures. There are so many good points in his remarks it is impossible to give them all a place in one issue of this paper. To-day we ask a careful perusal of the following. Mr. Carlisle said:

"We have been told over and over again during this debate that the passage of the pending bill will destroy many valuable industries now flourishing in various parts of the country; that it will deprive thousands of laborers of employment and greatly reduce the wages of those who continue to work; and the gentleman from Maine (Mr. Reed) who has just spoken has substantially repeated the gloomy predictions to which the House has listened so often during the last three weeks. As the Representatives from New England on the other side of the House appear to be especially alarmed concerning the injurious effects of this bill upon the great manufacturing industries in their part of the country, it may not be inappropriate to call their attention to a few historical facts connected with our tariff legislation in the past and the effects of low rates of duty upon the prosperity of our people.

"Sir, if I believed that the passage of this measure would injure a single honest industry or reduce the wages of those who are employed in it I would, notwithstanding the great emergency which now confronts us, hesitate long before giving it my support. (Applause on the Democratic side.) But in my opinion the reduction now proposed on dutiable imports and the proposed additions to the free list will be beneficial to the manufacturers themselves as well as to the laborers and consumers of their products.

"The highest rate of duty imposed by the tariff act of 1846 upon any class of woollen goods, cotton fabrics, manufactures of leather and of hardware, was 30 per cent. ad valorem, and upon most kinds of cotton goods it was only 25 per cent. These were the industries in which New England was most largely engaged, and her Representatives here, except those from the State of Maine, who were divided upon the question, protested against the passage of that act, as they now protest against the passage of the pending bill, upon the ground that it would paralyze and ruin these great interests. The Representatives from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, and Vermont voted unanimously against the bill, with the exception of Mr. Collamer, of Vermont, who did not vote at all. But it passed, nevertheless, and became a law; and now, Mr. Chairman, let us see what its effect was upon the most important industries of these great manufacturing States and what the subsequent action of their Representatives was after an experience of eleven years under these moderate rates of duty.

"We have no authentic statistics showing the progress made by manufacturing industries between 1846 and 1857 as a separate and distinct period of time, but it may be fairly assumed that the full force and effect of the new rates of duty were realized at least as early as the census year 1850, and we have the census returns of 1850 and 1860, the latter based upon the productions of the year 1858, to which I beg leave to invite the attention of gentlemen from New England and other gentlemen who believe that low tariffs destroy manufactures and pauperize labor.

"During the period mentioned the value of all our woollen manufactures increased more than 42 per cent; the number of hands employed increased 183 per cent, but the total amount of wages paid increased 37 per cent. (Applause), showing that the percentage of increase in the amount of wages paid was twice as great as the percentage of the increase in the number of hands employed. (Applause). Taking all the New England States together the increase in the value of the product in this industry was 62 per cent; in Rhode Island, 176 per cent; in Vermont, 65 per cent, and in Maine, 83 per cent. In the manufacture of hosiery the progress during the ten years under consideration was almost marvelous. In the Eastern States the increase in the value of the product was 481 per cent. It was 523 per cent. in Connecticut, 377 per cent. in New Hampshire, and 373 per cent. in Massachusetts.

"What was the effect on the manufacture of cotton fabrics in New England and in the whole country? Why, sir, the value of the production in the United States increased 77 per cent, the number of hands employed increased 23 1/2 per cent, and the total amount of wages paid increased 39 per cent. (Applause). In New England the increase in the value of the product was over 81 per cent., in the number of hands employed 28 per cent., and in the amount of wages paid 36 per cent. Massachusetts increased her product 77 per cent., New Hampshire 55 per cent., Rhode Island over 87 per cent., Connecticut 116 per cent., Maine 137 per cent., and Vermont 27 1/2 per cent.

"In the six New England States, the increase in the value of the product in the manufacture of boots and shoes was 83 per cent.; in Massachusetts the increase was 92 per cent.; in Connecticut 10 per cent.; and in Rhode Island 337 per cent. The production in New England alone in 1860 was greater than the aggregate production of all States in the Union 1850. In the manufacture of hardware New England increased the value of her product 100 per cent., and in this industry also her product in 1860 was greater than the product of all the States in 1850.

"Instead of paralyzing the industry and pauperizing labor in New England, or any other part of the country, for that matter, the tariff act of 1846, (a low tariff), infused new life and vigor into our languishing manufactures, and secured more constant employment and higher wages to our laboring people; and the consequence was that even the strong prejudices of New England were removed by actual experience, and in 1857 every Representative from that part of the country who voted at all voted for the bill making an almost uniform reduction of 20 per cent. from the rates imposed by the act of 1846, and placing many additional articles on the free list.

THE CONGRESSIONAL RACE.

Good Advice From the Editor of the Carlisle Mercury—Forget Past Differences.

Editor Bulletin: I am obliged to you for your kind mention of my name in connection with the race for Congress from this district. I am not going to deny that I would be pleased to go to Congress, for you would know I was fabricating, but I am going to say in all earnestness that I would under no circumstances enter into a personal contest for the nomination, and thereby cause disturbance and dissatisfaction in the Democratic party.

Nicholas County is going to present a candidate, but it is not a foregone conclusion that it will be your humble servant. We are going to present one for several reasons and upon several grounds. We are going to present our candidate first as an example of what a county can do when her Democracy make up their minds to let the dead past be forgotten. No county was ever more completely divided into factions than Nicholas was for several years. But by mutual concessions and Democratic patriotism we have laid aside self and personal grievances for Democratic strength and unity. Whatever personal resentment that remains is smothered when the time comes for party action. We propose to ask our Democratic neighbors to recognize us in this grand work. We propose to lay our poll books before the Democrats of the old Ninth district and ask that our steadily increasing Democracy be recognized as worthy of consideration. We shall ask that those counties whose candidates have been the recipients of our support shall give us a chance to lead in the coming contest. As I said before—it is not by any means a decided question that I will be Nicholas' candidate, but it will be all the same with me; I shall be for the nominee, and old Nicholas will come up with her usual majority. We do want a Democratic Congressman from this district so bad that we are willing to sacrifice all personal feeling to secure one. Let the people choose a man, and then let us all give him our support. I am fearful I may make this too long, but I cannot close without saying something for the Democracy. For the sake of our own self-respect let us lay aside everything that doth hinder us from winning. Let's forget past differences; don't object to the candidate on account of the cut of his coat or the color of his hair; let's nominate a true Democrat and elect him; caring nothing for who he may have been in the past. If such a spirit could take possession of us all—and it will if we will let it—we can have the proud satisfaction of placing ourselves in line with our party in the Nation. Yours &c., G. R. KELLER.

TRouble AT THE GRAVEL PITS.

Attempt to Frighten Away the Negro Hands by Treats of Mobbing.

The Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company has opened out some gravel pits on the Kentucky shore, about three miles above Manchester, where an almost inexhaustible supply of fine material for ballasting is to be had. A side track and incline has been put in, and about two hundred hands have been engaged some time getting out the gravel and loading it on cars for transportation to the points on the new road where it is most needed.

Most of these hands are Virginia negroes. They are an industrious and contented class of fellows and the contractors have got more good solid work out of them and had less trouble with them than any other set of hands on the road. At least that claim is made. Quarters have been erected near by, and one morning last week the following notice was found posted on the door of one of the shanties:

May 22, 1888.
You negroes ill give you fore warning to get away between this and next Saturday and if you don't the last one of you will be mobbed. We have got a mob of about one hundred and we mean what we say. We will see if you god dam black s—n of B—s will come and take the work away from the men around here or not. We will kill the last god dam one of you take warning and travel, and next Monday night we will be there.

We will give you all fore warning.

We will start the last dam one of you.

The notice was written on a sheet of paper torn from a time-keeper's book. Two more notices similar to the above were found posted on some of the other shanties. Nothing will frighten a Virginia negro sooner than a mysterious threat of being mobbed. A council was held and quite a crowd of them concluded they had better "travel." There would no doubt have been a general stampede of the darkies had not Colonel Childre, Chief Engineer, arrived on the scene. He assured them they should be protected. At last they consented to remain if they were provided with arms to defend themselves. A messenger was sent to this city for the "materials of war," and the negroes have been armed with double-barrel shot-guns. The mob will undoubtedly meet with a warm reception if an attack is made. However, no further trouble is anticipated.

Had the negroes been frightened away it would have delayed work on the road at that point considerably. A slight clue has been obtained to the author of the threatening notice, and he will be punished to the full extent of the law if he is found.

Juvenile Concert by Miss Beardsley's School.

The juvenile concert given by Miss Mary Beardsley as the closing exercise of her school at the Southern Methodist Church Friday night was unusually pleasant and entertaining.

The pupils taking part were Misses Florence Barkley, Helen Barkley, Rosa Watson, Belle Watson, Sallie Bell, Hattie January, Allie Shackelford, Adele Valz, Alice Beardsley, May Finch, May Whitaker, Douglas Robinson, Berta Robinson, Lizzie Wormald, Edna Lytle, Julia Ficklin, Imogene Ficklin, Florence Darnall and Amelia Frost, and Master Ned Valz and James Whitaker.

The programme was as follows:

"Welcome"—Chorus and "March, by the Entire School.
Solo—"The Girl with Golden Hair,"—Imogene Ficklin.
"German Students."
Flag March—By the Entire School.
Vocal Duet—"The Two Cousins,"—By Allie Shackelford and Amelia Frost.
Solo and Chorus—"Rock, Rock the Cradle," Doll Song.
Medley.
Little Waltzes.
The Award of Prizes.

The programme was exceptionally well rendered throughout. The singing for the most part was accompanied by calisthenic exercises, which with the handsome costumes of the little girls produced a very pleasing effect, every movement being timed to music. Several pieces received a very hearty encore from the audience, and every one present was delighted with the concert.

The prize for spelling was awarded Miss Amelia Frost, that for improvement in penmanship was adjudged to Misses Hattie January and Florence Barkley, and upon lots being cast fell to the latter.

Miss Beardsley has just closed a very successful term of nine and a half months, and adjourned for the summer vacation, but will re-open her school the first of next September. Her tact as a teacher was beautifully exemplified in her control of the pupils during the exercises, by the delicate touch of the key-board of the organ, this harmony being but the outgrowth of excellent discipline and training, and showing that mutual love and confidence between teacher and pupil so necessary in a successful school.

RICHARD McMILLIN and Ella Paddy were granted marriage license Saturday. They are a colored couple and live in the west end of the county.

Stock, Field and Farm.

About 5,000 lambs in Garrard County for June delivery have been sold at 5 and 5½ cents.

The New York visible supply of grain on May 7th included 46,378,674 bushels of wheat, 15,613,986 bushels of corn, 4,056,896 bushels of oats, and 324,370 bushels of rye.

Dr. Salmon, of the United States Veterinary Medical Association, says from 125,000 to 150,000 human lives are lost yearly from using the milk and meat of tuberculous cattle.

Isaac M. Scott, formerly of this county but now living near Harrodsburg, set thirteen acres of tobacco out of one bed a few days ago, and was then offered $30 for the bed. He is the only one in Mercer County with that much of the weed planted.

The Cha'anoo Argus says that the crop of strawberries now being shipped from that place will bring $40,000. They are principally cultivated on Missionary Ridge—the land which a few years ago sold for $5 per acre. It is now worth from $500 to $2,000 per acre.

Joseph Sewell, of Montgomery county, has demonstrated, this season, the advantage of grain-fed sheep over those wintered on fodder and hay, in the wool yield. The same stock by the former keeping yielded seven pounds per fleece and the latter four and a half pounds.

Up to the close of last season the enormous number of 2,847 trotters had made records of 2:30 or better, and about 200 have trotted in 2:20 or better. It is not more than a quarter of a century ago that a 2:30 horse was quite a rarity, and fifteen years ago an animal that could go three heats in the time named would be valuable for campaigning purposes, whereas at the present time he could not win even on the smaller tracks.

A. FINCH & Co. shipped 3,000 bushels of wheat to Pittsburg yesterday on the steamer Fashion. A crowd of excursionists on board took in the sights while the boat was at the wharf, and expressed themselves delighted with our city.

Who Hit Billy Breckinridge.

(Lexington Transcript.)
Colonel Breckinridge was defeated by the candidacy of Mr. H. P. Thompson, of Clark County, a most estimable gentleman. Mr. Thompson was backed solidly by the hundred votes of the Tenth district, which were not only cast for him solidly but were at his disposal to be "traded" in any and every way most likely to result to his advantage, and the fullest use was made of this privilege by Mr. Thompson's friends, who were active, aggressive and enthusiastic. The result was that Colonel Breckinridge, whose interests nobody was looking after particularly, was traded out of his election.

THE POPE WILL EXPLAIN.

HE DOES NOT DISAPPROVE OF THE NATIONALISTS' ASPIRATIONS

When Within Legitimate Bounds—The Queen's Birthday Celebrated—Emperor Frederick's Condition Changes for the Worse—Other Notes From Europe.

LONDON, May 28.—The Chronicle says that the pope will issue a brief reply to the letter of adhesion received from the Irish bishops, in which he will explain that the Vatican does not disapprove Irish National aspirations within legitimate bounds.

The Star, Thomas Power O'Connor's paper, commenting on Bishop O'Dwyer's letter to the mayor of Limerick, in which he gave warning that Catholics who attended the league meeting on Sunday would be guilty of a grievous sin in view of the pope's re- script, says: Bishop O'Dwyer has rendered the Nationalists a service by forcing the fight. There can be no doubt of the result for a moment. An overwhelming majority of Irishmen will support their representative against both the inquisition and the only Irish bishop who is a friend and supporter of the Tory clericalists.

Meeting of Slavs.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28.—It is reported that at the last meeting of the Slav Benevolent society on Wednesday, at which Grand Duke Vladimir, Gen. Richter and all the Russian ministers were present, in addition to 4,000 persons belonging to the higher classes of Russian society, Gen. Ignatieff, in an address, expressed a wish that they might soon see all the Slavs in the world united under one faith, speaking one tongue, and forming one nation.

Frederick Worse.

BERLIN, May 28.—The Emperor Frederick is worse, and is obliged to remain in his bed room. A fresh inflammation has appeared in the parts around the wound in the throat. No cause can be assigned for the new development, and the physicians are in consultation over it. The patient's general state is good. Dr. Mackenzie has again changed the canula, choosing one of another shape.

The Queen's Birthday.

LONDON, May 28.—Great preparations have been made for the celebration of the queen's birthday, which was observed today. Her majesty reached her sixty-ninth year last Monday, but the usual anniversary festival has been postponed for various of state. The Prince of Wales returned from the continent and took a conspicuous part in the grand commemoration.

Convicted of Adulterating Tea.

MOSCOW, May 28.—Several of the wealthiest merchants of this city have been convicted by the government of adulterating tea which they had for sale. One of the merchants has been sentenced to be banished to Siberia for life.

DUBLIN, May 28.—At a meeting of the Cork branch of the National league, held Friday night, the Dublin manifesto against the papal rescript was endorsed.

Germany and Austria Negotiating.

LONDON, May 28.—Germany and Austria are negotiating with each other for the adoption of common customs reprisals against Russia.

ROBERT GIBSON'S WHIPPING.

Indignant Citizens Declare it Too Lenient. Vigilantes to Be Indicted.

BARNESVILLE, O., May 28.—The beastly crime of Gibson and the work of the mob still occupies the public mind. After the flogging Gibson was allowed to rest his lacerated body in the lockup until Friday, when he waived examination and was ordered taken to the county jail. All the condemnation the mad citizens who took him out and administered the lash have received from the people is that his punishment was not near severe enough.

Friday afternoon the excitement was greatly revived by the arrest of Minor Gibson, a brother of Bob, and an ex-penitentiary bird, on six charges of exposing his person to a number of country ladies. The authorities hustled the dual brutes off to jail in short order, for if they had left them here until night their carcasses would have been food for the crows.

The Vigilantes Will Be Indicted.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., May 28.—Robert Gibson, the Barnesville colored man charged with raping a five-year-old white girl, and who was taken out of the Barnesville jail and flogged, was landed in the St. Clairsville jail Friday evening, and will have a hearing before the grand jury. Marshal Renner, who was more hurt in the rescue than Gibson, will have the vigilantes presented to the grand jury.

DESIRE TO BE INDEPENDENT.

Mr. Powderly Don't Want to Be Re-Elected General Master Workman.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—General Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, in Friday's issue of the Journal of United Labor, prints an important communication, in which he says: "I do not want a re-election of general master workman. I desire to be independent of office, so that I will not have to listen to the bark of every cur, to the growl of every mangy dog whose worthless hide has earned the sores it bears. The enemies of the order has thrown down the gauntlet. Your general master workman picks it up and will from this day do everything in his power to undo the work of traitors and blackmailers, and when he goes to Indianapolis, he will go at the head of true knights or no knights."

Mr. Powderly, when asked Friday night if he really means to decline a re-election, declined to discuss the subject in the press.

Strike in a Locomotive Works.

PATERSON, N. J., May 28.—The entire force of the foundry of the Cooke locomotive works struck Friday on account of some objectionable rules made by the new foreman, John F. Daniels. The stoppage of work in the foundry will materially interfere with the other departments.

Want Liberty on Independence Day.

MARION, O., May 28.—From a good source it is learned the saloonkeepers of Prospect called on Mayor Carpenter and requested him to suspend a late ordinance permitting them for Fourth of July evening to have full sway. His honor said he could do nothing for them, and would not if he could, which aroused the saloonkeepers, and they intimidated him his services would not be required beyond the present term. The committee offered $25 donation for the celebration fund.

MORE BALLOTING.

The Results of the Elections at the M. E. Conference.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The result of the ballot for missionary secretaries was announced to the members of the Methodist general conference by Bishop Warren, who presided.

Only one of the three needed was chosen. This was Chaplain C. C. McCabe, who received 355 votes out of the 415 cast. When the result was announced, the conference indulged in loud and continuous applause.

The interest in the conference work seems to have gone out with the election of bishops, as but few persons were present.

On motion of Dr. Flood another ballot was taken for missionary secretaries, which was followed by nominations for corresponding secretary of the Church Extension society—an office worth $4,500.
